The Solemnity of Our Lord Jesus Christ the King

Reading I: 2 Samuel 5:1-3
Reading II: Colossians 1:12-20
Gospel: Luke 23:35-43

Today we hear the story of the crucifixion of Jesus, how the soldiers threw dice for his clothes, mocked him, and offered him cheap wine. It is in the context of this Gospel reading that we celebrate the solemnity of Christ the King. What a perfect illustration of the paradox that Christ lived! This is a king like no other we have known, and the contrast is evident as we ponder the scene of his death on the cross. We see his throne to be the cross, no gold-laden vestments, only nakedness before his people, no armored guards on his right and left, only two thieves that share in his painful death. Even more, we see no attitude of revenge or anger. Rather we witness a man who is willing to forgive and offers himself completely for the very people who kill him. He even promises one of the thieves that he will share paradise with him. This is Christ the King whose kingdom serves as a model for our living.

Greetings from our Society of Saint Vincent de Paul Conference

We're sure you're familiar with the food pantry that has been operating for many years - now being managed by Tom and Nancy Horstmann (who can always use volunteers and food donations). But did you know that we are completing our fourth year of expanded St. Vincent DePaul Society ministry that includes visits to the needy (we call them clients) who have asked us for financial support?

Rent, utilities, and water bills are the main needs, but our help has also covered items like furniture, appliances, hot water heaters, and mattresses. Help has included hotel lodging for persons escaping from abusive situations, shoes and clothing, medical prescription costs, or just filling the gas tank of someone's car (we never give money directly to clients - it goes to a landlord, to Ameren, a store, etc). We're one hundred percent efficient; a dollar donated is a dollar that will help a needy person in some way. We visit clients as two-person teams to identify needs beyond the specific issues that brought them to us, and try to be good stewards of the finances that you so generously donate. Another "real world" aspect of visits is to discern if the request is legitimate... almost all are.

Financial support is only part of what we give in our ministry. Many are suffering the pain of asking for help for the first time in their lives, especially difficult as the holiday season approaches. We listen to them, pray with them, and often leave worksheets to help them identify and prioritize their expenses. We give counsel to the extent we can, and just as importantly we review and leave with them a brochure that provides reference information on subjects ranging from other food pantries, meal providers, emergency housing... to sources of medical help, child care, furniture, legal assistance, and transportation. A few of our brochures are in the gathering space if you are interested.

Thank you for your continued generosity; you are helping many needy people in our area.
