who has five barley
loaves and two fish;
but what good are these for so many?”
Then Jesus took the

to those who were reclining, and also as much of the fish
as they wanted.

From Our Pastor

Over the past few weeks, I have addressed some questions about being in full communion with the Catholic Church and receiving Communion. A person who persistently denies an essential teaching of the Faith places himself outside of the communion of the Catholic Church. In this column, I will consider a pastoral response to this situation.

The pastors of the Church, especially the bishops, have a responsibility to shepherd the flock and to warn them about the dangers of sin. Above all, it must be remembered that calling a person to repent of a serious error is not being mean, attacking another, or a sign of hatred. Confronting error is an act of kindness and of charity. We have all had times in which we have been challenged, perhaps by our parents or by others who love us, who want the best for us. Challenging those who are not disposed to receive Communion does not weaponize the Eucharist. It is because of love that those in authority warn us of the dangers of error and sin. It is for the good of souls, and for our salvation.

When a person privately breaks communion because of grave sin or because of a serious error about the Faith, the greatest act of charity is to go to the person directly. A person who is not in full communion should not receive the Eucharist, lest as St. Paul warns us, he eats or drinks his own condemnation (1 Cor 11:29). It is an act of love and a sign of great respect to call a person to repentance, and to return to communion with the Church.

If the error or the offense is public, the pastors of the Church are concerned both about the person who breaks communion and about the example given to the rest of the community. Charity invites those who are shepherds to urge those who break communion to repent, but not only for their own sake. They should also avoid giving bad example, sowing confusion, or causing scandal among the faithful. The warning of the shepherd is also a sign of love for the flock he must protect.

It is never easy to challenge beliefs that are not in harmony with the Gospel, especially serious errors that hinder the reception of Communion. Let us always remember the awesome holiness of Jesus, Who is truly present in the Eucharist. Let us also remember that He died for us so we might receive His forgiveness whenever we repent of sin.

I have an interest in wellness and prevention, which I plan to include in my ministry.

Some of the services I will provide as Parish Nurse are:

- Wellness and Health screenings;
- Work with Parish Wellness Council to provide health education materials and programs to meet needs of Parish;
- Assist individuals and families navigate through health system;
- Assistance in setting up medication schedules, completing Advanced Directives (living wills), and seeking care and services in the community;
- Occasional visits to parish members living at home or in centers receiving skilled nursing

How can you help my ministry?

- Pray for me, that I can make a difference in the lives and health of our Parish Family;
- Complete the Parish Health Needs Assessment that will be distributed next month;
- Join the Parish Wellness Council, to plan programs, services, and events to meet the needs of St. Thomas Parish.

To the Clergy, Religious, and Laity of the Diocese of Peoria

My dear friends,

I am writing to you today to bring to your attention the situation of our brothers and sisters in the Catholic Faith who live in Lebanon. They are facing what has been called the worst economic crisis in modern history. Indeed, the nation faces a famine, and some are in danger of starvation.

The Lebanese community is deeply rooted in our diocese, some of whom are Latin Rite Catholics while others belong to one of the Oriental Rites in communion with the See of Peter. I am asking that a second collection be taken in our parishes this month. The proceeds will be forwarded to the Patriarch, Cardinal Bechara Boutros al-Rahi, who will distribute the funds to those in need.

The Collection for our Brothers and Sisters in the Catholic Faith living in Lebanon will be taken up the weekend of July 31/Aug. 1.

Sincerely yours in Christ

Daniel R. Jenky

✠ Most Reverend Daniel R. Jenky, C.S.C.
BISHOP OF PEORIA

When you go the poor, you encounter Jesus

Aah, summer. Time to relax, enjoy the outdoors, and gather with family and friends. We are thankful that vaccines and other precautions allow us to celebrate Mass in person, to attend ball games, and to travel. Being apart has made it so much sweeter to be together!

The St. Vincent de Paul Society has assisted clients throughout the pandemic, with your generous support. Most of the people who call Catholic Charities and are then directed to us do not have much savings and many lost jobs in businesses that shut down. The programs that provided funds to help people get by are ending as summer winds down, so we expect to receive many, many calls for help. We always confirm information given by clients so we are good stewards of your money and we ask you to consider increasing your donations as we enter an expected increase in need.

We stay as informed as possible of resources available through the government and other agencies, and we have access to job information that we share with clients, but many times people have immediate needs or fall through the cracks and we are there to help them.

Now as we move toward Labor Day, let's savor every summer day and remember that we have brothers and sisters who struggle. Thank you for giving the St. Vincent de Paul Society the resources to assist friends in need and for keeping them in your prayer. You're the best.

John & Pat Pusey

Thank You!
