May 21, 2023 The Ascension of the Lord

JESUS WAS TAKEN UP INTO HEAVEN

From Our Pastor

This weekend is a Confession Weekend. During Lent, many parishioners found it helpful to be able to go to confession after all of our weekend Masses. Since this was so beneficial, I will plan to offer confessions after each of our Masses one weekend each month. If you haven't been to confession since Lent, this weekend is available for you. Confessions will be heard after Saturday evening Mass as normal, and also after the three Sunday Masses this weekend.

Congratulations to our 8th grade students who will graduate this Sunday. Best wishes also to the PND students graduating in a week, especially our STS alumni. May St. Thomas watch over you in the years ahead.

Please remember the three deacons who are ordained this weekend, as well as the four priests to be ordained next weekend. You can encourage vocations to the priesthood by suggesting to the young men of the parish, 7th grade and up to attend Emmaus Days this Summer. The high school juniors and above have retreats in Champaign on June 9-11 or June 23-26. The high school sophomores and below have retreats at Eagle Crest Camp, Washburn, on the week of July 16th. Please inquire for more information.

In addition to graduations and ordinations, we will have a farewell for Fr. Achilleus on the weekend of June 3-4, with a reception for him after all Masses. If you would like to volunteer to help with this reception, please contact the parish office.

Finally, to help organize the narthex and keep things more tidy, I put in a rotating pamphlet rack in the back of the Church. Take a look to see what materials are available. Please help yourselves to anything of interest. In addition to parish information, our parish nurse and pro-life committee will also provide resources that are available to you in this display rack.

- Msgr. Gray

May is Better Hearing and Speech Month

Early identification and intervention for hearing loss is important. Many people live with unidentified hearing loss, often failing to realize that they are missing certain sounds and words. Checking one's hearing is the first step toward addressing the issue.

Protect your hearing! And if you already have hearing loss or are experiencing pain, discomfort, or ringing in the ears, take steps to keep it from getting worse.

Some people may not want to admit they have trouble hearing. Hearing problems that are ignored or untreated can get worse. If you have a hearing problem, see your doctor. Hearing aids, special training, certain medications, and surgery are some of the treatments that can help.

Health Effects of Hearing Loss

- Hearing loss can affect cognitive health. Studies have shown that older adults with hearing loss have a greater risk of developing dementia than older adults with normal hearing.
- Cognitive abilities (including memory and concentration) decline faster in older adults with hearing loss than in older adults with normal hearing.
- Older people who can't hear well may become depressed or withdrawn from others because they feel frustrated or embarrassed about not understanding what is being said.
- Sometimes, older people are mistakenly thought to be confused, unresponsive, or uncooperative because they don't hear well. These circumstances can lead to social isolation and loneliness.
- Hearing loss, even small amounts, is also linked to an increased risk for falls.
- Hearing loss can affect public as well as personal safety, such as the ability to drive safely, when warning sounds are harder to hear.
